

Call for Papers: The 39th Annual Meeting of Sophia University Linguistic Society

Sophia University Linguistic Society is pleased to invite abstracts for submission to our 39th Annual Meeting of SULS (Sophia University Linguistic Society) to be held in person on July 19, 2025.

Guidelines for Submission of Abstracts:

1. We invite abstracts for oral presentations (each a 20-minute talk plus a 10-minute discussion period).
2. Oral presentations must be given either in Japanese or in English.
3. Only work that will remain unpublished at the time of the presentation may be submitted, and the work must be relevant to language science and its related areas.
4. Use a 12-point Times New Roman font (for ones written in English) or an 11-point Mincho font (for ones written in Japanese). Use A4 or letter-size paper. The width of the margins is 2.5 cm all around. Abstracts must be written in the language used in your presentation.
5. Abstracts must include the following three pages: (i) The cover page, which includes the title, author's name, author's affiliation, the language used in your presentation, and keywords on your presentation; (ii) The main page, which includes the proposal; (iii) The final page, which includes data and references.
6. To ensure proper review, abstracts should not include any information that identifies the author(s) except for the cover page.
7. Abstracts must be submitted electronically, both in PDF and MS Word formats. Send your abstract with your application form, which is available on the SULS website (<https://sophials.sakura.ne.jp/web/>), to suls1985@gmail.com as attached files by Saturday, June 7, 2025 (JST).
8. Note that to present a paper, all the authors must be members of the Sophia University Linguistic Society, though they need not be at the time of submission.

Important Dates for the 39th Annual Meeting of SULS:

1. Meeting Dates: Saturday, July 19, 2025
2. Abstract Submission Deadline: Saturday, June 7, 2025 (JST)
3. Notification of Acceptance: Authors will be notified on or after June 20, 2025

If you have any questions or troubles, feel free to let us know. Send your message to suls1985@gmail.com.
